Refugees who fled the hurricane-threatened coast of Texas rest in the Houston City Auditorium where they sought refuge. ### Student From India Visits Sewage Plant

Health Engineer Making Survey on Pollution With State Men

A visitor from India, studying health engineering, today told a Freeman reporter that he considered Kingston's sewage treatment plant one of the most modern he has seen in operation.

And, Meenyanjaya Mahapatra, who earned his master's degree at Johns Hopkins University, was exceptionally enthusiastic about making field trips with engineers from the Water Pollution Control Section of the New York State Department of Health.

Twenty-three months ago, the government of Orissa, India, sent him to the United States to observe advanced methods in health engineering, and he has a wealth of information to report when he returns.

Many of the policies and routines of the Ulster County Health Department are bound to be adopted in India's program for advancement. Judging from his sentiments regarding the progressiveness of the local organization for protecting the citizenry against disease.

Mahapatra has toured several states, and contemplates studying the health systems used by a number of others before he reports back to India.

His chief concern at the time is water pollution control, a problem existing for 10 years of study throughout the state covering approximately 50,000 miles of watersheds. Engineers are testing the Rondout-Walkkill area at present, and he accompanies them on their daily field tours, collecting samples for testing of their own mobile laboratory parked near the sewage treatment plant and in the city's laboratory.

Charles C. Ayer, chief of water pollution control for the state, said that Mahapatra gets all the particulars on field trips and in the laboratory to complete his survey for the Orissa government relative to health engineering.

Ayer, who has charge of testing the streams in the 11,400 square miles of Rondout-Walkkill watershed, said the local project is progressing according to schedule and will be continued as long as weather conditions are favorable.

Water from the various streams is taken in containers by the laboratory, where the samples are tested for pollution that might occur from municipal or industrial wastes. The latter, he said, is the major concern of his department, which finds that it is most detrimental.

Kingston's sewage treatment plant handles more than three and a half million gallons of sewage daily, and when the new diversion chamber on lower Broadway is completed, the gallage will be increased to more than four million.

According to Mahapatra, the Ulster County Health Department has a wide reputation as being one of the most outstanding in the nation, and he took the occasion to compliment its chief, Dr. Robert H. Broad.

Mahapatra is making the most of his tour in the United States, continuing with his health study project an interest in a number of subjects. He plans a tour of surrounding commercial enterprises including bedsteads and to stream plants of this area.

Truck Overturns
The operator of a telephone company truck escaped injury yesterday afternoon when the truck, traveling over Route 209, overturned when a tire blew and the driver lost control as the truck struck a steel shoulder of the road. The truck was later towed to a local garage for repairs.

Firemen's Association Asks Judges Give Decision Against Warden

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—Mayor Herbert A. Warden of Newburgh has asked the Court of Appeals to determine whether municipal taxpayers may control details of city government through a referendum.

Warden urged the state's highest court yesterday to reverse lower courts and declare invalid a proposed city law to be voted on Nov. 8 which would set up minimum salaries for city policemen.

A court attache said the court's decision would set a precedent as to the limit of individual taxpayers' powers under section 19-A of the city home rule law.

Referenda previously had been used only to establish a broad framework under which a city government operated.

The proposed law, filed through a petition signed by 2,382 persons, would set a minimum annual salary of $3,000 for a patrolman, $3,200 for a sergeant, $3,400 for a lieutenant, and $4,500 for the chief.

In addition, four annual increments of $125 for four years of service would be provided. Salaries now are set annually through ordinances enacted by the city council.

The State Conference of Mayors argued on behalf of Warden. It said that "should this procedure for setting salary be upheld, it would be a precedent for every city in this state which would face similar referenda."

The Newburgh Firemen's Welfare Association asked the court in a brief to uphold dismissal of Warden's suit. It said it also planned to submit a petition to the voters for minimum firemen's salaries.

Justice J. Gordon Flannery of State Supreme Court dismissed Warden's action last July 11. The Appellate Division, second department, upheld the dismissal last Sept. 3.

Henry Grusky, city corporation counsel, argued before the high court that the city charter provides that the city council must set salaries of appointive officers, except those under the Board of Education.

He said that to uphold the legality of the proposed referendum would "alter our representative form of government from its present form to one of direct action by the people."

Henry Hirschberg and Ernest M. Lovinson appeared on behalf of the Police Department and the City Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

Installation of the first government may take place as early as next week. Eastern non-Communist parties were reported promised less than a third of the salaries as a price for voting demands for a popular election.

Communist appointees as ministers of interior, economics, and propaganda were believed to be already approved by the Soviet occupation command.

In a vital public declaration of policy today, Communist chiefs said they would use the eastern republic to fight the "quillings" of the West German Federal Republic, sponsored by the United States, Britain and France.

Yanks and Dodgers Play Tight Ball At Packed Stadium

Newcombe and Reynolds Battle Batters as Subway Series Is Opened

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Big Don Newcombe, husky Brooklyn rookie, and Alie Reynolds, 31-year-old New York Yankee veteran, squared off in a battle of righthanders today as the 46th World Series opened at the Yankee Stadium in bright sunshine.

Effects of an early morning rain had all but disappeared at game time on this humid afternoon with spots of blue dotting the somber clouds.

Many of the reserved and box seat customers were late in arriving but the bleachers, vanguard of a capacity crowd of some 68,000, were jam packed.

Choice of Newcombe over Lefty Roe was a last-minute development as Manager Burt Shotton held back on his pitching nomination. Newcombe is the first negro pitcher to start a World Series game.

Opening of the Series is a tremendous responsibility for this husky right-hander who moved up from the Montreal farm club in mid-May after a spring training trial.

During the season, big Newk has been Shotton's hardest worker, pitching 245 innings on route to a 27-8 winning record. Of his 31 starts, 10 have been complete games. He has a low earned run mark of 3.12.

Despite a painful groin injury, Rightfielder Carl Furillo reported ready for play. Unless he finds out in pre-game practice that he can't make the grade, he will be in the starting lineup.

Here are the lineups:
Brooklyn
Reese, ss; Jorgensen, 3b; Snider, c; Robinson, 2b; Hornsby, 1st; Furillo, rf; Hodges, 1b; Campanella, c; Newcombe, p.
Yankees
Rizzuto, ss; Henrich, 1b; Snider, c; Maggio, cf; Lindell, lf; Johnson, 3b; Mares, rf; Coleman, 2b; Reynolds, p.

First Inning Dodgers
Reese watched Reynolds' first two pitches for strikes, then looked at a ball, then rolled to Honrich who made the unassisted putout at first. Lindell started late for Jorgensen's fly to left. (Continued on Page 16, Col. 1)

Senate Has Given HST 1950 Issue

Confusion of Democrats Emphasize Difference Over How to Keep Farmers Happy

Seek Compromise

Anderson Says He Will Try to Work Out Some Substitute

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—A confused and bickering Senate seems to have left a clear opening for President Truman to push the Brannan farm plan as a major congressional campaign issue in 1950.

The Senate's up-hill-down-hill tactics last night—in rewriting a flexible price prop bill into a high-level support measure and then shelving it for 48 hours—emphasized the wide disagreement over how to keep the farmers happy.

Out of the agriculture committee may come a compromise measure the Senate can pass and the House can accept. But even if that happens, there appears little chance of whole-hearted congressional support of any such stop-gap farm program.

In contrast, Mr. Truman is expected to go all out next year in campaigning for the proposal of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that perishable crops be allowed to seek their own market levels, with direct subsidy payments to keep up the farmers' income.

And he probably won't have any overwhelming endorsement by Congress of another type of farm program to embarrass him in such a campaign.

The situation in the Senate was so confused that Mr. Truman and Vice President Barkley appeared to be lined up temporarily on opposing sides of the current argument over crop supports.

Even that, however, was no obstacle to their later joining in backing the Brannan Plan.

Senator Anderson (D-N.M.), who used to be Mr. Truman's secretary of agriculture, said he will try to work out a Senate compromise. He wrote the bill debated yesterday but asked that it be shelved after Barkley broke a tie on an amendment rewriting it.

If Anderson doesn't find something acceptable to both houses, the long-range features of the Aiken bill of the Republican 80th Congress will go into effect January 1. Mr. Truman signed that flexible support bill without comment, but attacked it vigorously in last year's campaign.

Barkley, in voting for the administration-opposed amendment, observed that he wanted to do something the senators aren't allowed to do—explain his vote during the roll call.

"My position heretofore," he said, "has been in favor of support at 90 per cent. In every speech I made last year, I declared the same position. I cannot now repudiate it and therefore I vote against it."

The Republicans voted 20 to 10 against the 90 per cent plan. The Democrats favored it 27 to 17 in the tie. All the Republicans who favored it were from the west. Most of the Democrats who opposed it were staunch administration supporters.

Education Board Asks $1,250,000

Request for Authorization for Bond Issue Not Heard by Council

A request by the Board of Education of the City of Kingston for authorization by the Common Council for a bond issue of $1,250,000 to finance the erection of a new school building on the Sutherland property on Wall street, was not brought up as an order of business last evening. It is expected the proposal will be included in the next Common Council order of business.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Education it was voted to request a revised estimate of the cost of the new school building and to then make a request for authorization of bond issue to cover the cost of construction.

The estimated cost is $1,350,000, of which the Board of Education has included in the present budget the sum of $100,000, making necessary a bond issue of $1,250,000 to finance the project.

A communication was sent to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk last week over the signature of the Board of Education requesting that the bond issue be brought to the attention of the Common Council at an early meeting. In all probabilities the matter will be prepared by committee for action at the next Council meeting. It is the expectation of the board that with approval of the necessary bond issue the contract can be awarded and work commenced next season on the school.

Navy Plans to Check How Data Leaked Out

Chairman Vinson Calls His Committee to Work to Outline Program; Admiral Denfeld Announces Probe by Navy

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee today recommended that the navy fire Cedric R. Worth, author of the now notorious memorandum which touched off a congressional inquiry into the air forces' B-36 bomber program.

The committee approved a report saying Worth should be permanently discharged from navy employment. A civilian aide to Undersecretary of the Navy Dan Kimball, Worth has been suspended since his authorship of the B-36 memorandum came to light.

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—Congress members mapped out a study today of why Navy brass expressed concern for the country's security under present defense policies, while the Navy itself arranged a check into how this "confidential" concern became public.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee called his group into session to determine the scope of the Congressional probe.

The Navy inquiry was announced by Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, without a definite starting date yet. Denfeld said the Navy wants to find out who made public the correspondence in which Denfeld and two other admirals expressed their views on unification of the armed forces. The letters were slipped to newsmen Monday by a naval source who asked anonymity.

It was the subject matter of the three letters—indicating deep concern over Navy morale under the existing Army-Navy-Air Force setup—which drew the attention of the House committee.

Rep. Amden (R-Ill.) told a reporter in advance of today's meeting that "any naval official who feels he has a contribution to make regarding this problem in the interest of national defense should be heard by the committee."

The charges which have appeared in the press are serious indeed, and certainly the Congress and the country should learn the facts regarding the navy's viewpoint.

Denfeld, in his announcement last night, said the correspondence was "confidential" and should never have been made public. He indicated that someone is in for disciplining for turning the letters loose.

Denfeld's views of unification were attached to a memorandum written by Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan.

Bogan's letter said navy morale had sunk "almost to despondency" through the belief that the U. S. is being sold this "false bill of goods." The theory that a single service, like the air force might win was almost single-handed.

Admiral A. W. Radford, Bogan's superior in the navy's Pacific Fleet Command, sent the letter along after attaching the observation that most navy officers agreed with Bogan. Denfeld added to the correspondence by noting "present navy-wide concern" over the situation.

President Truman commented briefly on the row yesterday. He said in a remark at an army show in North Carolina that he hopes and believes the navy and air force will "get all their troubles settled," and that "the army and navy will go along and make its way."

Automobile Fire
Firemen were called at 5:34 p. m. yesterday to 75 Hudson street, where a car owned by Judson L. Styles of Downs street, was reported on fire. The blaze was quenched before their arrival, firemen said.

Bronze Statues to Be Placed In Academy Park; Are Gift
Bronze statues of Governor DeWitt Clinton, Peter Stuyvesant and Hendrick Hudson will be erected in Academy Green Park as a contribution by Mrs. Emily C. Chadbourne through last night's action of the Common Council and earlier sanction by the Board of Trustees of Kingston Academy.

The council voted approval on report of a special committee which had been appointed to consider the offer of Mrs. Chadbourne and detailed plans and drawings prepared by Alfred Geiffert, Jr., landscape architect of 101 Park avenue, New York, were submitted for final approval.

A resolution by the Board of Trustees of Kingston Academy expressed appreciation to Mrs. Chadbourne for her "generosity and the unusual civic and community interest" in this "development and beautification of the park."

Government Calls Lewis and Operators

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The government today called John L. Lewis and soft coal operators to a meeting Friday in an effort to end the three-week mine shutdown.

Cyrus S. Ching, head of the Federal Mediation Service, said the coal situation has "reached the place where it is approaching a crisis," that requires the intervention of his office.

The operators are meeting with Lewis and his United Mine Workers negotiators at Bluefield and White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., but Ching said a mere report of progress in those talks would not suffice to call off his Friday meeting here.

Some Firms Establish Rationing

Westinghouse Is Using Allocations on Home Appliances; Detroit Is Affected

Arrests Are Made

Virginia Flareup Brings Some Detentions by Police

Pittsburgh, Oct. 5 (AP)—The government is considering clamping down on the export of steel in the face of dwindling inventories which threaten idleness to hundreds of thousands in American industries.

Many companies are taking precautionary steps of their own as the nationwide steel strike goes into its fifth day.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation put a rationing system into effect today on many appliances. There's no sign of peace in the steel.

And the picture remains almost as dark in the coal world.

The double-barrelled attack on America's economy has added 51,000 steelworkers and 350,000 United Mine Workers.

The issues are about the same. The workers want a better pension and welfare program.

Let's take a look at the picture in steel:

Philip Murray, president of the Steelworkers, is standing pat on his demand that industry pay all the costs of a pension and welfare program. Industry is standing pat, too. It will pay up to 10 cents an hour that insists workers chip in a few cents an hour, too.

There are no negotiating sessions in sight. The government is keeping hands off for the present.

That doesn't mean the government isn't concerned. Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer says he's considering imposing export controls on steel. That would keep more steel in America, prolonging employment in many industries in case the strike isn't ended soon.

Almost as Sawyer was talking, Westinghouse placed a number of home appliances on an allocation basis to distributors and dealers. These include large model refrigerators, electric ranges, washing machines, clothes dryers, vacuum cleaners, water heaters and fans.

Representations of steel walk-out are coming from Detroit, too. The most part, auto companies have enough steel on hand to make autos for a month. However, 8,000 employees of Packard Motor Car Company will be idled tomorrow and Friday. Packard wants to survey the situation and adjust its working schedule to the supply of steel on hand.

There's not a great deal of worrying over the lack of coal at the U.M.W. walkout of soft coal miners is now in its 17th day. There's still enough coal above ground to keep most of industry humming at least another month.

Reports of sporadic violence come from the soft coal fields daily. The latest flareup was in Virginia last night. A few arrests were made.

In Pennsylvania a coal tipple coal preparation structure was damaged by an explosion yesterday at the C. V. Funk and Son Mine near Clearfield. And several trucks hauling noncombustible coal were dumped along roadways near Hollidaysburg, Pa. Three men were arrested. Two pickets were fined in the storing of noncombustible coal truck drivers in Cambria county, Pa.

All of the violence stems from efforts of a few hundred non-union coal operators to keep their mines running.

Taylor Says New Clinic Will Have Leading Physicians

Director Says Foundation Is Organized to Accept Public Aid

A staff of top professional people is being assembled for the Ulster County Tumor Clinic which is scheduled to open October 20, Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor, clinic director, told members of the Kingston Lions Club at a luncheon meeting Tuesday noon.

The clinic facilities and services which will be available here after October 20 are such that 10 years ago no one would have believed it possible they would ever be available in Ulster county, he said.

Dr. Taylor also told of the formation of the Ulster County Tumor Clinic Foundation, Inc., organized to receive contributions which are already being received to further clinic work. He said the Foundation plans to work in conjunction with the clinic staff and to help financially the patient who cannot afford to pay for treatment, but who is not eligible for other assistance such as public welfare.

Some of the money will be used as loans to patients who will be able to pay it back over a period of time, he said. In some cases, money will be given to a patient as an outright gift, he added.

Council Votes New Smoke Ordinance

Fire Department Is Given Duty of Checking and Preventing Violations

An ordinance "regulating the emission of dense smoke and air pollution" in the city was adopted by the Common Council last night.

Introduced at a previous meeting it was slightly revised by Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly on request of the Laws and Rules Committee and leaves with the fire department "the duty of investigating, preventing and abating air pollution and the emission of dense smoke within the city."

Firemen were called at 5:34 p. m. yesterday to 75 Hudson street, where a car owned by Judson L. Styles of Downs street, was reported on fire. The blaze was quenched before their arrival, firemen said.

The plans indicate that the figures will be erected northeast of the existing pool in the park.

Truck Driver Is In Good Condition

Thomas Daniels, 33, of Allentown, Pa., who was injured late Monday night when the tractor-trailer he was driving crashed into a pole and tree in Saugerties, was reported in "apparently good condition today at Kingston Hospital."

Saugerties police said Daniels was pinned between the steering wheel and seat of the truck cab for more than a half-hour before police and volunteer workers succeeded in ripping loose the seat back and removing the injured man.

Also in the cab were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Raymer of Greenville, who were less seriously injured, Saugerties police said.

The three were given first aid by Dr. Lester A. Sealing of Saugerties, then taken to the Kingston Hospital in Lorton's ambulance. Daniels was admitted to the hospital, while the Raymers were released after treatment for cuts and bruises, police said.

The tractor-trailer was traveling south through Malden avenue (Route 9W) in Saugerties about 11:30 p. m. Monday when for some reason not yet determined it rode along the curb for about 200 feet, struck and cut off an electric pole and finally uprooted a tree about one and a half feet in diameter, police said. The vehicle, which was transporting apples from Massachusetts to Pittsburgh, Pa., was badly damaged, police said.

Noisy Trains Are

continued outside the council chamber after the session adjourned.

No Zoning Violation
A letter from Corporation Counsel James C. Connelly explaining his study and findings on complaints against the Ashley Welding Machine and Iron Co., of Lorton and Sterling streets, indicated slight grounds for definite action and stirred a protest from Alderman Carroll, who had previously submitted a petition bearing signatures of residents of the area.

The corporation counsel explained that the petition was referred to the zoning board and the fire chief. It does not constitute a violation of the zoning ordinance since the place was established before local zoning laws, he said, and as to the fire hazard "corrective action was taken."

The corporation counsel's letter explained further that the fire chief said such instances as complained of were not common practices and would not violate fire regulations.

On the complaint against the repaving and parking of vehicles in the street, the letter held that these were police department matters and complaints should be made there.

Alderman Carroll said "It would seem to me that the residents of the neighborhood should be considered and when a complaint is made by their duly elected representative that the corporation counsel should take some action to see that the conditions are remedied."

Carroll said that "unless the committee can render a favorable report on this" he was going to tell his constituents that the duly constituted authorities cannot or will not do anything, and if they wish anything done "it will be necessary for them to hire an attorney to represent them."

Carroll said he felt the conditions full within "the police powers of an incorporated city and that this corporation should be enjoined from the indiscriminate use of gasoline and oil and from using welding torches in the street and driveway adjoining the premises."

The petition presented by the alderman in August stressed that the residents of the area complained of the pounding of metal, and said gasoline carried in open cans spilled in the driveway and in the street, and sheets of heavily oiled metal were left in the driveway.

The corporation counsel's letter last night was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee. The council empowered City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodsell to issue and sell revenue anticipation notes in the amount of $86,167 representing uncollected revenues from the state for the city's share of state-shared taxes for amount will be needed to delay expense and cost of operation of city government for the balance of the year.

The city treasurer's letter said the city had a total of $242,544 due in anticipated revenue for 1949 and of this the $86,167 is state-shared per capita tax. The greater part, he said, will not be received until late November, December and early in 1950.

Bill Is Approved
The council approved the $24,730.66 bond removal bill submitted by the Board of Public Works and which represented the cost of removing last winter's snow.

Four reports of the traffic control committee were adopted. They included the proposals of Alderman John Buboltz for installation of "silent policemen" on Delaware and Hasbrouck avenues at Livingston street for protection of children of the Immaculate Conception School.

The report said the "silent policemen" on Wurts street and on Foxhall avenue near School 3, were satisfactory.

The report also favored Alderman Coughlin's move for no parking at any time on the east side of Wurts street from Abbot to West Union street. It favored also restricting parking on the west side of Broadway from Brown's Service Center to the Bulck show room driveway at Malden Lane.

On a previous request of Alderman Martin for "pinpoint spotlights" to aid and protect local policemen, the committee reported no funds available and recommended the proposal remain in committee until a provision is made in the 1950 budget.

B.P.W., but the alderman asked for action at last night's session. Alderman-at-Large Turck said he would refer the resolution to the B.P.W., with a recommendation for an immediate report back to the council as suggested in the resolution.

Coughlin contended that the council authorized bond issues for street work, and contended that "very little of the work" has been completed. His resolution asked from the board an accounting on whether the sums came from the budget or the bond issues, the names of streets repaved and the cost, and "in the event there is money on hand, upon what streets said sums are to be expended, and the amount which is to be allocated to each street."

The Traffic Control Committee, reporting on a previous request for better control of traffic over Cedar and Henry streets, said the request was referred to the justice department and the chief said the department "is making a study of the matter and every effort will be made to remedy the situation."

The council granted the Kingston Taxpayers League permission to use the council room Oct. 17 for "an open meeting."

The water department notified the council that its September request for water service on Ulster street extension was referred to the Extension and Improvement Committee.

"Quit Claim" Ordinance
A "quit claim" ordinance conveying an unused section of Park avenue to the Kingston Manufacturing Corp., was adopted. The original request was made by the Displayers Inc., which has conveyed all of its property to the Kingston Manufacturing Corp.

A letter by Andrew J. Murphy of the Department of Recreation asking for financial aid from the state for the department, was referred to the finance committee. A letter from the Chamber of Commerce asking for improvement of traffic conditions on Route 9-W between the Rondout creek bridge and East Chester street, Albany avenue between Broadway and Clinton avenue, Washington avenue between North Front and the Esopus creek bridge, and Clinton avenue, was referred to the Traffic Control Committee.

A letter from the Clerk of Boards, Middletown, telling of action there for state aid to maintain city streets and highways, was filed.

An invitation extended through Carl H. Chatters, executive director of the American Municipal Association, and asking the mayor and local officials to attend its national convention in Cleveland, N.C., Dec. 2, was also filed.

The council adopted a report of the election committee and approved a new polling place in the second district, Sixth Ward. The polling place previously designated is not available, the committee said, and a property at 45 Mill street owned by Morton and Lawrence Levine, was approved.

YOUR HOME NEWSPAPER

Reading your home newspaper means more than just an opportunity to get the latest news. It is an insurance against missing business, civic, political and social matters about which one must keep informed. In addition it is an insurance against missing the many bargains in buying and in selling which appear in the advertising columns. There also is the legal information and all the other things that come only through the community newspaper in its function not only as a publication business but as a community service institution.

Every citizen who fails to read his local paper is dependent upon charity, good nature or gossip, which very often is very inaccurate, of his neighbors to keep him informed on matters of vital importance to him.

EMISSARY OF BASEBALL

He tried his best, but it didn't take. The late Charles Murihead of London spent the last quarter of a century of his life in trying to arouse in the British an interest in baseball.

In 1924 Murihead brought the New York Giants, then the National League champions, and the Chicago White Sox to England for an exhibition game. He even got King George V and Queen Mary to attend, thereby starting the new sport off on the right foot socially; but it was no use. The King damned baseball with the comment, "Why, it's only rounders". Rounders, thought to be the ancestor of baseball, is a game now played chiefly by girls. In 1929 the indefatigable Murihead had a Japanese team tour England, but it was still no go.

Baseball won some British followers. There are said to be about 450 sandlot teams, mostly near Liverpool and South Wales. The English, however, are wedded to cricket, and in sport, as in business methods, they do not adopt novelties readily. Murihead might have found consolation in the company of the Philadelphians who have sought to popularize cricket in the United States. That must not spread outside a limited area, either.

WHO'S EXCITED?

The day President Truman announced that Russia has had an atomic explosion this country began to hear an endless stream of placating pronouncements from top military leaders, statesmen and others.

The general tenor was: Take it easy, everybody. Don't get hysterical. Keep calm. After all, it doesn't mean Russian planes will be over our cities tomorrow.

Commentators pouring out the news all that day used their gravest tones. Listeners might well have thought a second Pearl Harbor was upon us.

The funny thing about all this fuss is that most people appeared to take the big announcement without a ripple of concern. Probably they had long since discounted the prospect that Russia would develop the bomb. Hadn't our scientists been saying right along that the secret couldn't be kept indefinitely?

Actually, about the only citizens who showed any hysteria were those who were busy telling everybody else not to get into a lather.

WARNING UNHEEDED

It is sometimes a good thing to believe what you are told, especially when it is unpleasant. In 1938, according to German documents just published by the State Department, Joseph P. Kennedy, our ambassador to London, gave the Germans a warning that Hitler would have done well to heed. This was that if the European war then looming up should materialize, the United States would take part.

Perhaps Hitler did not believe this. It may be only that he was convinced that this nation could not mobilize in time to do any good. At any rate he paid no heed.

In Hitler's tormented last days in Berlin, as he stamped up and down the headquarters that were to become his grave, hearing no news but reports of Allied gains in every direc-

SHYLOCK OVER THE COALS

The day may come in the United States when no one will be permitted to be against anything, to dislike anything, to oppose anything. The Klein-Javits Bill, pending in Congress, is a measure to lesson or to limit antagonisms or their expression. The bill would make it a federal misdemeanor for any person "with intent to create ill-will against a racial and religious group" to use the means of interstate commerce, such as mails, telegraphs, telephones, railways express, to circulate their views. It would be wrong, for instance, for an anthropologist to write learnedly on racial superiority. How far can such a law go? Let us say that a man is an atheist and believes that all religious persons are dopes, shall the mails be closed to him because it can be shown that he, Shylock, is ill-will against church-goers? Would Robert Ingersoll have been suppressed under such legislation? Or let us take the discussion of the Barden Bill. That got to be pretty hot for a while and certainly created ill-will, much more than it should have. Should every newspaper that publishes articles on the Barden Bill, pro and con, be excluded from the mails?

Paul Robeson regards himself as a Negro leader and he takes the position that anyone who criticizes him, spreads ill-will against Negroes. His position is similar to that adopted by the late Sidney Hillman, a conniving politician, that anyone who says through his newspapers was an anti-semitic spreading ill-will against Jews. Or shall we close down the Zionist propaganda against the Arabs or the Arab propaganda against Israel? Or shall we arrest all who spread ill-will against Soviet Russia, our country's enemy?

The bill apparently is being promoted by the American Jewish Congress through its general counsel, Will Maslow, who says of it, "We hold dear the free market in ideas and reverse our constitutional guarantee of a free press. We realize that the best protection the Jew has against prejudice and discrimination is a free society of which a free press is integral. But we deny that malicious circulation of material known to be false and designed to stir up religious hatred contributes in any way to a free press or a free market in ideas. An utterance which is basically fraudulent blocks the free communication of ideas just as fraudulently advertised products must be eliminated to prevent the blocking of a free competitive commercial market."

How does one distinguish between the "basically fraudulent" and the question of freedom of opinion and belief? There is now a violent agitation to drive Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist" and William Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" out of the schools in many parts of the United States. "The Merchant of Venice" was written about 1596 and has survived these centuries as one of the greatest works in the English language. The character of Portia is incorporated in the culture of the English-speaking people.

"The quality of mercy is not strained. It droppeth as the gentle rain from Heaven Upon the place beneath. It is twice blessed; It blesseth him that gives and him that takes. . . ." For centuries those who speak English have been taught to memorize this essential part of our culture. But it can be established, I suppose, that "The Merchant of Venice" does stir a moron to look for the pound of flesh and to characterize all Jews as Shylocks. Shall we keep Shakespeare out of the schools and out of the mails? Or the Bible that characterizes the sons of Ham with considerable malice?

It would seem to me that all these efforts to curb human antagonisms by law only increase antagonisms and stir the resentment of those who dislike the curbs placed upon them. One Paul Robeson has done more harm to the Negroes of America, in my judgment, than the entire Ku Klux Klan and all such measures as the Klein-Javits Bill can achieve. Little more than a stirrington indignation against those who would achieve their ends, no matter how desirable, by means that outrage the spirit of American civilization. It is wiser to debate the truth in open candor.

ENLARGED TONSILS CAN SPOIL THE VOICE

It is hard to understand why patients with at least as much brains as the rest of us continue to let their youngsters go about with enlarged tonsils and adenoids, which takes all the musical tone out of their voices. We speak of such children as talking through their noses, when as a matter of fact the nose is blocked by adenoids and enlarged tonsils so that they cannot use the sounding board of the voice—the sinuses. You can produce this flat note in your own voice by closing nostrils with thumb and finger when you speak.

If the nose is well ventilated, the sinuses will be ventilated also and the full round voice will be produced. An X-ray expert states that he examined the X-ray plates showing the sinuses in the head of the world's greatest tenor of modern times, Caruso, and they were unusually large and perfectly clear. Thus, of course, accounted for the great volume and resonance of his magnificent voice. Family physicians have advised many parents to have the tonsils of their children removed, even when there is only a slight enlargement, and no infection, because of the possibility of serious repeated attacks of tonsillitis. Tonsils should be removed because they might be causing infection when an examination by a throat specialist would show tonsils to be free of infection. Tonsils are useful filters if normal, but dangerous if infected, aside from affecting the voice.

tion, did he ever remember Kennedy's warning, and wish he had paid attention to it?

Renovation of the White House is expected to be completed so that President Truman can move back in by Christmas, 1951. That will be just in time for him to start wondering whether he should try for a renewal of his lease.

Playing Hard to Get

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Word inside labor circles is that John L. Lewis's dictatorial control over his United Mine Workers is the shakiest it has been since the 1933 depression year, when the union would have folded up but for the rescuing hand of Franklin Roosevelt—whom Lewis later repaid with hate.

There is growing dissension among rank-and-filers, who were barely able to support their families during the recent three-day week work schedule—much less maintain an all-out strike with empty larders and no pay checks. And the fact that Lewis continues to draw his $50,000 a year, ride around in big limousines and put up at the best hotels while negotiating with the operators doesn't set well with the rank-and-filers.

The high esprit de corps and loyalty to the "Old Man" that marked former walkouts is missing this year. One reason is the large number of World War II vets in the U.M.W.—independent young fellows who won't be pushed around by anybody, even John L. Lewis.

The strongest rank-and-file grumbling among the mine workers is over the dissipation of their pension and welfare fund. This was manifested when a Pennsylvania miner, G. E. Livingston, brought suit against Lewis for alleged misappropriation and waste of the welfare fund.

Livingston's action in itself is a tolltale barometer of changing sentiment among the miners. For, in the past, no mere miner would have dared challenge Lewis's one-man rule. He and his family would have been ridden out of town by Lewis's strong-arm men.

Some Southern Miners

Several U.M.W. district leaders in the south have actually talked privately of breaking away to organize a separate union of southern miners—if Livingston's charges of wasting the welfare fund are upheld in court. Also, many southern miners are sore because Lewis makes a practice of settling with northern operators first, thus getting northern miners back to work ahead of southern miners. In addition, southern miners are weary of being kept broke by Lewis's annual strikes.

Just once, they would like to see him wangle a wage increase without a walkout. It was kept quiet, but minor delegations from western Kentucky and Michigan county, West Virginia, braced Lewis's right hand man, John Owens, in Bluefield, W. Va., the other day with a demand that the U.M.W. treasury be opened up to help destitute mine families.

In a surly mood, leaders of the two groups told Owens that they were broke and their families hungry.

All this is why the coal operators, for once, are not pressing for a quick settlement, and also why Lewis abruptly terminated his strike in the anthracite and western coal fields.

Alaskan Defense—Most vulnerable link in our Alaskan defenses is housing. Right in the heart of a great timberland, the army engineers haven't been able to build enough housing to accommodate U. S. troops. Living quarters are so short that the army and air force can't even keep a minimum peacetime force in Alaska. Even today, housing space is urgently needed for 12,543 men and 6,973 dependents. . . .

One Trouble—It's costing the army engineers half as much again to construct houses and barracks as it would cost private builders. Less Air Day-Bidding—Publicly owned, free airplane rides has turned out to be a boon to the commercial airlines. Several government officials had planned to take air force planes to the Kansas City shindig honoring Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle. But after all the hubbub over free rides, not a single air force plane showed up. Some Democrats grumbled that "Drew Pearson is costing us a lot of money."

More Russian Agents—The Justice Department is getting ready to tighten up on Amtorg, the Russian Government trade agency in the U.S.A. Evidence has developed that at least half a dozen Amtorg agents have been spying in the United States; so the Russian Government will be asked to register all its members. The State Department may block the move, however, on the grounds that it will make relations with the Russians even tougher.

Leo Cummings, a former resident, died in New York. More than 300 attended the annual patriotic reception and luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Foulney Bigelow at Malden.

Oct. 5, 1939—The Uptown Business Men's Association named a committee to assist the newly formed West Side of the Hudson Association in its promotion of the area.

Felix Ferranto of Prince street informed his family that he was scheduled to go as radio operator on the Admiral Byrd Antarctic Expedition.

Jewelry of "considerable value" was reported stolen from the home of Samuel N. Goldberg, 93 Main street.

Headquarters Are Set Up

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—A statewide "Rural Citizens for Dulles" organization set up headquarters here today to get out the upstate farm vote for Senator John Foster Dulles. Republican leaders have said that the G. O. P. nominee for the Senate will need a big majority upstate in the November 8 election to overcome an expected heavy vote for former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in New York city. Lehman is running on the Democratic and Liberal tickets. Assemblyman Harold L. Creel of Homer is chairman of the "Rural Citizens for Dulles" committee on which J. Dwight Reeve, represents Suffolk county.

Talk of Inflation Will Be Paramount Topic Within Few Weeks. Who Is to Blame?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 5.—Within a few weeks the nation will be talking about inflation as vehemently as it did two years ago. For now Congress has voted to support the prices of certain farm commodities at 90 per cent of parity.

Steel is not being produced. Coal production is relatively small. Scarcity brings higher prices.

Increased compensation for workers is being sought by the coal and steel unions which will have to be added to sales prices. Pensions and social insurance are wage increases, too.

The steady pressure to bring prices down has been relaxed and steel prices not only will not go down but may go up again. Deficit spending by the federal government runs into billions. This can eventually mean only one thing—an inflationary trend.

In the long run, this means that the dollar which has begun to stabilize will gradually be turned toward devaluation of its purchasing power. Who is to blame? Certainly the Congress isn't altogether at fault. For the American people have shown little interest in supporting the economy which a minority in the House and Senate strive so earnestly to accomplish.

Likewise, the American people seem completely indifferent to the work stoppages in steel and coal. The fact that economic power exercised by national unions can now regulate the flow of production and the price level seems not to have disturbed other political party's leadership or the country.

Although the Roosevelt family is still on the statute books and the union spokesmen and the Truman cabinet officials go up and down the country urging its repeal, the President apparently regards the law as a dead letter. He isn't enforcing it as he is commanded to do to prevent work stoppages. The excuse is made in administration circles that it wouldn't do any good to ask—so the law provides—for an 80-day period of reconsideration of the issues in dispute. But that's not a good reason for failing to use the powers granted the President. From time immemorial legislators have argued that inflation is a "good thing" and that it helps business. So does a shot in the arm stimulate good feeling among the masses—yet when the effects wear off, the patient is often worse than ever before.

The key to America's economic future is lower prices through increased productivity.

But the American Federation of Labor now has announced that it is going to a five-day week of seven hours each. Presumably the same pay given for 40 hours would be demanded for 35 hours. This is one way to diminish productivity. It is one way to bring higher and higher prices.

There has been some improvement in production per man-hour in many industries, since V-J Day but the benefits of this improvement to the massed through increased wage expense and profit hours.

The economic picture has been getting brighter since making money only because it seemed that America was beginning to stabilize. Had it been possible to avoid a "fourth round" of wage increases, the nation would have been entitled to expect lower prices.

But the "fourth round" of wage demands in the form of company-financed pensions and social insurance that would be a commitment not just for one year's contract. It would apply for many years to come. It means the end of any hope for price reduction now and indicates a gradual rise in the price level.

Inflationary policies began during the spring when fears of a recession penetrated government circles. Quickly the world was forth to resume spending and deficit financing. Now the danger is to keep farm prices high, reaching their natural level. Controls are interfering with the flow of supply and demand to ensure dominance in agriculture and labor dominate the government and will adversely affect again those whose incomes are fixed or are not raised in time to meet higher price levels. The inflation fever is here again.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 4.—These days I find my heart turning back to sport, to the baseball industry as I used to call it with smart cynicism, and the fighters and football and to the great people, men and women, who were and are the champions. We of King Features had a big luncheon at the Waldorf last week, a day of champions, and I felt a little bit of a little estranged from my old crowd as I went there, wondering how my feelings I might hurt this time by failing to recognize him on the instant after years and years, and a little sad, too, knowing that I had frayed up and that many a one at the party would be disappointed or older.

Twenty years were early and to some old clients of my essays on the merry madness of the era of wonderful nonsense it will ring of heresy my remarking that this explicable Mike is a beautiful man even rising fifty with no gray in his hair, his face a healthy, athletic pink and his blue eyes as clear as the sky. How we sparred and what for the devil only knows because we have become dear friends since sense came over us. A few weeks ago, driving up the Merritt Parkway, a fellow came up behind me in the left-hand lane and blew me to give over, but there was a little rasp in the tone, a "gee" that he had a right to the tail a half-mile more as he squawked the louder and meaner. Finally to get ready for the right hand exit, I let him have it. As he drew up, I gave him a look and was pursuing my face to say "you" and he was doing likewise when recognition dawned.

Gene followed me up the lane till we could park. I got out saying "Do you want to make anything out of it?" We fell all over each other.

Ty Cobb was there and I did you to remember a man more hated, feared, admired and respected than Ty Cobb has ever been. Second, third and home in St. Louis about 1915. I think I'm a few years off from that. I met a legend when I met a man of a time when big George Morrell, a fighter who took them on by the team, handled the shrike. Mike carried a 35-ounce bat and said, "now we're even, one on one and fight."

Ty came out to my place in the desert a couple of winters ago and I was a little upset as to whether to hide behind the door and pounce on him to get in just back with a measure of justice. I had a chance. I never met a better man and I was specially impressed by his kind excuses for a young outsider on the Giants' club, who misjudged an easy day the day before, came in late with a clumsy lunge and hurt himself badly.

How in the world could a fellow like a fellow and get up to the majors?

"Oh, that is a very high fight sky you have hit," Ty said, "without a cloud of overcast to make a background. It must be hard judging how far the ball is coming to you or when it cuts rising and starts down."

The master and this boy's great mistake, the one that put him in the hospital, was trying to reach it. He was in a foul mood, which carried him off-balance and over and over. He should have

Mrs. Harry Van Wagenen,
Executive Director,
Files Report on Drive
and Activities

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Branch of the New York State Division of the American Cancer Society held in the court house here, resolutions were adopted making the end of the fiscal year conform to that of the State Division—August 31—and extending the tenure of office of the officers of the local branch to the same date.

A vote of thanks was extended to the people of Ulster county for their generous cooperation and contributions in the recent cancer campaign and to Mrs. Harry Van Wagenen, campaign chairman, and her able assistants for the success of the campaign.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who was present at the meeting, was congratulated on the success of the city campaign of which he was the honorary chairman. It was voted that the Ulster Branch of the American Cancer Society extend its gratitude and appreciation to the Board of Supervisors of Ulster county for making suitable headquarters available to the branch in the county building on Fair street and also to the supervisors of Ulster county and the Medical Society of Ulster County for the invitation for the Ulster Branch to occupy a room as headquarters in the new Turner Clinic, which will open on October 30.

Mrs. Harry Van Wagenen, executive director of the Ulster County Branch and campaign chairman of the 1948 cancer drive, rendered her report which included the following:

The people of Ulster county donated $17,595.88. During the campaign 6,000 letters were mailed and 12,000 were distributed in envelopes in which monthly bills were enclosed by various merchants who cooperated in the campaign. The Boy Scouts distributed 900 posters.

There are 375 volunteers helping in the educational campaign that continues throughout the year to create understanding about the disease, making surgical dressings and providing transportation for the patients. Five hundred are needed. A training school for Ulster county will be opened in Kingston about November 1. Those interested should write or telephone Mrs. Van Wagenen.

Mrs. Van Wagenen reported that the educational campaign had been very successful, 21,050 pieces of literature on cancer having been distributed and about 20,000 people had seen the exhibit of the Cancer Society at the State Armory during Kingston on Parade Week and at the Ulster County Fair. Twenty-four cancer films were exhibited to audiences totaling 6,730 people. Six doctors and four lawyers spoke to a similar number and two citizens spoke over WKNY on Cancer to listeners estimated at 15,400. Ten thousand book marks were distributed.

Mrs. Van Wagenen further reported that The Kingston Daily Freeman and Ulster County News and Kingston Leader gave generously of their space both for the financial campaign and for the activities of the local branch.

After thanking Mrs. Van Wagenen for her excellent report and expressing thanks for the cooperation of the press and radio, the board adjourned to meet again the first Thursday in January.

There are a few cancer campaign coin boxes unaccounted for and it is requested that Mrs. Van Wagenen be notified at the cancer headquarters on Fair street, telephone 2757, concerning them and a messenger will be sent for them.

Play on First Trick Often Means Game

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

The mail today brought a letter from my good friend, Mrs. Mary Flasher, who is on the staff of the "Columbus Citizen" of Columbus, O. Mary wrote a nice little bridge book some time ago, entitled "You Too Can Play Bridge." She told me about today's hand, which came up at the national tournament in Chicago. Mrs. Flasher was the declarer (North) and her partner was Dr. Louis Mark of Columbus.

Confirming a thought I have often expressed, Mrs. Flasher pointed out the importance of the play of the first trick. The careless play would be to win the first trick with the ace of diamonds in dummy. But if you stop to think and count your tricks, you can see that if declarer plays the ten of diamonds on the first trick, and it loses, she still can make four.

diamond tricks. The ace of clubs will make five, four trump tricks are nine and the ace of spades ten. Now all she has to do is to ruff two spades to make the contract.

When the ten of diamonds holds the first trick, declarer should then lead the three of spades, win it with the ace, trump the house of spades in dummy with the deuce of hearts, lead the seven of hearts, pick up the trump, take the diamond finesse, and discard three losers on the three good diamonds.

If declarer wins the first trick with the ace of diamonds, the timing on the hand is lost. Even though a second diamond finesse is taken, the contract will not be made.

He was a terrible plague on his day and that reminds me that Johnny Evers, called the "Big Boy," once recalled that he and Hank O'Day once filled up the nats on purpose. Hank called him out and Johnny came out of the dust, hating his pants and stuck his jaw in Hank's face. "That was a fine decision, Hank," he said. Hank stretched out his arms and said, "Thanks, Johnny, he had you that far." Johnny turned to go, then wheeled around to ask, "How's the good wife?" "Never better, thanks, and I hope your missus keeps you well," Hank said, pointing to the dugout.

Ty said he didn't hold with both-or-ing an umpire in the early innings.

"He still has a long way to go and you don't want to get him mad and affect his judgment. Sometimes I might walk out and say, 'Mister umpire, I think you missed that one,' just to show the players you are fighting for them, to keep their spirits up, but I wouldn't kick seriously until the late innings."

Tunney was discussing the wrestling shows. I said I thought those blows on the head and those body-slams must hurt. No, they were expert tumbler, Gene said, and that was just work to them. They knew how to fall, and the bat on the jaw spent most of its force on the shoulder. The forearm hit there before the fist smacked loud on the meat of the pachyderm's face.

Somebody had seen Harlow Tommy Murphy lately. He is one I never did see, a little early for me. Then Gene remembered Murphy's fight with Abe Attell and we all were of the mind that Abe was one of the greatest fighters that ever lived and as game as a man could be.

For a strange fact I had to be introduced to Maxie Rosenbloom not only because he has fattened up some and was wearing garb, but because for all of his fights that I covered back in the golden years, I never had met him. I told him I thought he had been one of the cleverest men of all time. That seemed to startle him, coming from me, I suppose. Could I have forgotten to mention this opinion back in those days? Well, anyway, he was, but it seems that he cheapened his great art by his clowning. Or didn't that raise it even higher to the level of burlesque? I wasn't the only one who failed to appreciate him.

Ray Bolger, the dancer and a champion, too, called Maxie the greatest ad lib fighter of them all, a better description, done ad lib, than any I ever wrote or read of him, back when.

They were going to make a group picture of Bugs Baer, the greatest ad lib ad libber of them all, Graziano, a surprisingly good looking kid, all things considered including his reputation, Jake La Motta, Tunney and some woman. Her back was turned.

"Turn around to the camera, Trudy," said Bradley Kelly, "stand beside Gene."

Trudy, Ederle, that wonderful girl, was heroic in the true sense of the word. She not only swam the channel but did it in a wild storm. I had been with her there at Cape Gris Nez the summer of 1926, but I hadn't seen the kid in more than 20 years. A little hefty, if that is anyone's business, and very deaf now. We clinched.

Unquestionably, the champions are special. There is a style and a look to them. They wear greatness as a habit.

Were you to see the Jack Kellys of Philadelphia, father and son, the scullers, you could no more mistake them for ordinary men than a cart-horse for a thoroughbred.

I feel a little ashamed to carry on like this. Something just came over me. I will be myself again tomorrow.

Diseases of Shame

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

(AP Press-Science Reporter)
New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Thousands of years ago, people explained epilepsy this way:

Demons got into a person, they said. The demons affected his mind and brought on the fits or convulsions. Beware, they said, of the epileptic, or his demons might pick on you. Ancient physicians tried to purge or drive out the demons with magical potions.

Later, medical science proved that epilepsy is an ailment of the nervous system. But the demon idea lingered on. The mythical demons spawned new demons that still plague and haunt epileptics.

The new demons are the superstitions and false ideas about epilepsy that many people still believe in. Like the idea that all epileptics are insane. Or that epilepsy is always inherited. Or that epileptics can't live normal lives, hold down jobs, or marry.

For years these ideas made the person with epilepsy a social outcast, unless he could hide his trouble. In many communities today he is still shunned and pitied even when his attacks are controlled by modern medicines.

It was a shame and disgrace to have epilepsy, or to have a child with the disease. Other children taunted the epileptic child as feeble-minded or queer. Schools often refused to take him, and many still do. Employers wouldn't give him a job, and many still won't.

But all these demon ideas melt away and are purged by the light of the facts about epilepsy.

Does Not Mean Insanity. Epilepsy does not mean insanity. Some epileptics are brilliant, even geniuses. Other are morose. Most are of average intelligence. A group of epileptics taken at random show the same range of intelligence as any random group of people who don't have the disease.

Julius Caesar had epilepsy. So also did Lord Byron, Alfred the Great, Guy de Maupassant, Van Gogh, and Paganini, the violinist. Today there are physicians, lawyers, artists, clerks and mechanics who once had, or still have, epileptic seizures from time to time.

"It is no disgrace to have migraine headaches," says one medical authority. "And there is no reason for any stigma to be attached to epilepsy. Both troubles are similar in origin, and might be called cousins."

Something happens in the brain and nervous system to produce an epileptic fit or seizure. Science doesn't know just why nerve impulses suddenly go wrong. Brain injuries or tumors can bring on epilepsy. But in the majority of cases the cause can't be traced to some event like that. The attacks usually begin in childhood, or early adolescence.

Four Main Types

There are four main types of epilepsy. One is the grand mal or big attack, the severest kind. The person falls and goes into a convulsion.

In petit mal, the little attack, he loses consciousness but doesn't fall. The loss of consciousness may last only a few seconds. It can be so brief that other people don't notice it.

The third type is psychomotor attacks, in which the person may do unusual things, and not remember them afterward.

And in Jacksonian epilepsy, the attack causes twitching of some part of the body, but without loss of consciousness.

There are 700,000 or more epileptics in the United States. This is as many or more than have active tuberculosis. Until fairly recently, little could be done to help them.

Now there are drugs which control the attacks in most cases. Physicians usually can find one or two that help the individual without bringing on unwanted effects like sleepiness or nausea. The attacks may be stopped completely, or reduced to a minimum. About 80 per cent of people with epilepsy can live, work and play like other persons.

More drugs are in the offing. There are clinics in some cities that aid children and adults in finding effective treatment, and in overcoming other handicaps born of the social and educational problems that epileptics still meet. Parents, due to the stigma put on epilepsy, sometimes keep children cooped up, and don't let them grow or develop normally.

Epileptics can and do work and do as well or better than their co-workers in many jobs. They can often marry, without any real risk that their children will have epilepsy.

They can, in short, live as normally or more normally than people with heart conditions, migraine headaches, or other troubles. New medicines win half the battle. Killing the stigma of the disease is the other half. This educational job is being done by such organizations as the American Epilepsy League and National Association to Control Epilepsy.

The demon ideas are tough and hardy. They die slowly.

Escapes Sought In Auto Theft, Cottage Robberies

Belfast, Me., Oct. 5 (AP)—Sheriff Byron Heath said today two escapees from a Massachusetts jail are wanted in connection with theft of a New York car wrecked near here a week ago.

And Heath believes, he said, that they are the men sought since then for questioning about a dozen summer cottage breaks along the shore of Penobscot Bay.

At Casa Bidu, the Lincolnville cottage of Brazilian opera singer Bidu Sayo, two rifles and an air pistol were stolen last Sunday. An army rifle was stolen in another break.

Heath said the Massachusetts and Maine state police informed him the men wanted in connection with the car theft are Richard Little, 29, and Alvin Collison, 23, both of Upper Nyack, N. Y., who escaped from a jail in Massachusetts Sept. 13. Heath did not learn the jail's location.

On the same day the car was found wrecked. Heath received reports of eight cottage breaks at Northport. Subsequently two men stole a boat and rowed to Islesboro. After a three day search there, the pair eluded 100 policemen by stealing another boat and rowing back to the mainland last Saturday night.

Heath said several other cottages in the Camden-Lincolnville area were entered that night.

More than 30 state troopers, sheriff's deputies and local police have been searching for the men.

Newberry Stores Have 38th Birthday

J. J. Newberry and Company's Kingston store at 319 Wall street will join the chain's 484 other retail stores in celebrating the Newberry company's 38th anniversary with a special sale this week.

The corporation was the outgrowth of a business started in 1911 by J. J. Newberry, who bought a small store in Stroudsburg, Pa., in that year. The Kingston store has been in operation 22 years.

J. J. Newberry and Company and its subsidiaries operate 485 retail stores in 45 states, selling a variety of merchandise for cash at unit prices ranging principally from five cents to $2. Net sales in 1948 for the 485 stores totaled $134,785,359.

The company and its subsidiaries have approximately 16,000 regular employees, part of whom are employed only on Saturdays. The founder, J. J. Newberry, is present chairman of the board of directors and is still active in the business, either working at his desk or visiting personally the many units which give daily service in merchandising.

Says War Was Prevented

Philadelphia, Oct. 5 (AP)—The United Nations actually held off a third world war, Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. Palestine mediator said here yesterday. Dr. Bunche, whose work in Palestine averted a world crisis, received a doctor of laws degree from Temple University. Dr. Robert L. Johnson, University president, conferred the doctorate. "Support of the United Nations by both the peoples and governments of the world should be given not as a matter of humanitarianism but as a matter of self interest," Dr. Bunche said.

There are almost 42,000 locomotives in service on U. S. railroads.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Some businessmen oppose asking Uncle Sam to guarantee returns on their money if they invest abroad. Some of the public do, too. Although they may have no money of their own to invest, they can see how they might, as taxpayers, be called upon to foot the bill.

This is the issue in dispute this week over President Truman's point four plan to export American technical and financial aid to underdeveloped areas—how can you induce Americans to invest abroad, the way the world is today?

The idea of the investment is to raise standards of living in lands friendly to the democracies and thereby keep the Communists out. But even with the Red bomb blast still tingling nerves in Washington, some economy-minded congressmen are displaying coolness toward the idea of guaranteeing private investments abroad.

That some businessmen are cool, also, might seem strange. On the face of it, the guarantee measure being brought up in Congress looks like a handout from the public purse to the American businessman. If the businessman makes money on the foreign investment, fine. If he loses, the taxpayer public, whether they like it or not, will make up the loss. What would the investor have to lose? Some say, plenty.

They figure that if the government guarantees the citizen's money, it is going to want to supervise the investments in the first place, set up rules for them, and regulate collections. The end result, they fear, would be unsatisfactory to the U. S. government, the investor, and the foreign lands we seek to help. And not too close a resemblance to the American private enterprise system which we recommend to the world.

Then what would these businessmen prefer? Some of them are telling Congress this week that the only way to get private capital to invest abroad is to secure a fair deal for it from foreign governments. Given an even break, they say, American businessmen are smart enough to get along without a government crutch.

At least two important business groups—the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Foreign Trade Council—are urging that no nation get the proposed American aid until it has signed a bi-lateral treaty assuring "fair and non-discriminatory treatment for American enterprises and American investments," as the N. F. T. C. spokesman put it. However, some other business observers even question the real value of what they call fair-promise treaties.

Congress is being asked to provide guarantees for private investment, and also to put up some $35 million to start the other part of point four next year. The technical aid to the underdeveloped areas. However, all together about $85 million is planned for next year—the United States and various United Nations agencies putting up two thirds of it, and the countries on the receiving end chipping in a third.

More than $21 million would be earmarked for health, $17 million for agriculture, $8 million for industry, and $6½ million for power and flood control, with other fields getting the balance. More than $32 million would go to Latin America, $27 million to the Near East and Africa, and the rest to the Far East and Asia.

Businessmen agree that doubtless something should be done for the two-thirds of the world's people who live in economically underdeveloped areas and average $41 a year for income. But they also point out that even in this country are areas that could be more highly developed—and here the laws give a better deal to American investors than in some other lands.

They recall that this land was developed by foreign investment—but that here foreign investors were made welcome.

As the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York observes dryly, "A nation that is unwilling to permit safe and profitable foreign investment is not a nation in which foreign investment will take place."

Will Close Tube

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—Starting tonight, the south tube of the Holland Tunnel will be closed for repaving from 8 p. m. 6 a. m. on weekdays, Mondays through Fridays. The south tube will be open, however, on Saturday and Sunday nights. During the closings, the two lanes of the north tube will be used for traffic in both directions under the Hudson river. Usually the north tunnel handles only New York to New Jersey traffic. Special signs will direct motorists during the closings, which will continue until further notice.

Egypt Seeks Tourists

Cairo, (AP)—Egypt is leasing her customs regulations in an effort to attract more tourists—particularly Americans. Henceforth tourists can bring in all personal effects without payment of duty.

These include cameras, radios, binoculars and typewriters which formerly were subject to duty. Personal jewelry also is exempted if the tourist signs a statement listing it upon arrival. The same procedure will hold for foods, perfumes and tobacco. There will be no limit on the amount of gifts and souvenirs manufactured in Egypt which tourists can take out of the country. A special tourist police force has been set up. Tourists can have escorts from during their travels, if they desire.

the Gulf of Mexico. But here has been a villain, but now we start cleaning him up. Toward the end of the War of 1812, a British fleet showed up in the Gulf, and its commander offered Latite a shipload of shillings to join him. But the pirate, evidently stuck on his adopted country, thumbed his good-looking nose and a few days later marched his men into the camp of General Andrew Jackson. Under Latite's command, and you can check the story books if you like I'm kidding—his men played a big part in winning the battle of New Orleans. ## Do You Remember by

SOPHIE MILLER

I received a follow-up card from City Historian William C. DeWitt on the U. S. Hotel now being torn down. It read in part: "In justice to Mr. and Mrs. Max Baker, I have verified that they rebuilt the former P. J. O'Pray corner and named it the U. S. Hotel, covering the frame building with brick. The Bakers ran the China, toy and live and ten cent store on East Strand near Broadway, the largest on the block, later moving to North Front street, where they rebuilt the Pinner store."

Burton L. Boesmer, who was working on the demolition of the U. S. Hotel, found an old November 10, 1892 "Kingston Daily Leader" there and gave it to Anthony J. Rich, of the Colonial Linen Co. of 46 Broadway, who in turn presented it to me. This 56-year-old paper coming in right after election states on the front page, "Cleveland and Stevenson are elected—Congress is Democratic. Grover Cleveland has been elected president, and the indications are that his plurality in the electoral college will be the largest in 20 years. The House of Representatives in the 63rd Congress will contain 224 Democrats, 123 Republicans and 7 fusionists of Farmers' Alliance. Mr. Cleveland at his house, 12 West 51st street, had a special wire run into his library, and invited personal friends to sit up with Mrs. Cleveland and himself to receive the returns. President Harrison retired at midnight. He knew early in the evening that he had been defeated."

According to the Leader "Ulster county Democrats were decorated with rosettes and little brooms, and congratulating each other. Last night cannons were fired and in the evening citizens paraded the streets in the driving snow. A unique method of celebration was adopted by William T. Brodhead, and a party of friends, who rode about the city in a limousine drawn by four horses, preceded by Goelber's band."

Among news notes I see "W. M. Swart, Charles Swart and A. J. Myers, having finished their work at West Coast, have returned to Kingston Point, where they will build a new ice house for the Knickerbocker Co."

Rondout Savings Bank adv. reads: "At a meeting of the trustees of the Rondout Savings Bank, held June 13, 1932, a semi-annual dividend at the rate of 3 and a half per cent per annum, was declared for six months . . . to be paid depositors entitled thereto. James G. Lindsley, president; A. S. Staples, vice-president; J. E. Derrenbacher, secretary."

Another adv. "The Ostrander House, corner Green and North Front streets, Kingston, N. Y., formerly the Delavan House, has been newly furnished and fitted up. Rooms heated by steam. Boarders or transient guests entertained at moderate rates. A good livery connected with house. C. Ostrander, Prop."

I see the Albany Savings Bank, corner State and Chapel streets, Albany, N. Y., has in large print "Four per cent" per annum on all accounts not exceeding $3,000.

I don't find any grocery advs. Although S. B. "Thing & Co." advertising as "Shoe fixations" were giving away free salt and pepper shakers with $10 purchase of merchandise.

Break Ground for Central Hudson Generating Plant

With the thrust of a spade yielded by Ernest R. Acker, president of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, ground was broken at 11 o'clock this morning for a large new steam generating plant at Danskammer Point on the west bank of the Hudson river six miles north of Newburgh. The plant will cost $12,500,000 and will generate 60,000 kilowatts (80,000 horsepower) of electricity. When it goes into operation on January 1, 1952, the plant will make a kilowatt hour of electricity for 8/10ths of a pound of coal consumed and will be one of the most efficient plants of its type in the United States. The power generated will be used throughout the entire Central Hudson electrical network.

During the groundbreaking ceremony, Acker addressed an audience composed of directors and executives of Central Hudson and representatives of the New York city engineering firm of Burns & Roe, Inc., which has designed the plant and will supervise construction. Commenting on the future of Central Hudson, Mr. Acker said: "Today marks the beginning of a new era for our company. In recent years we have been forced to buy large quantities of electricity from companies with a surplus of generating capacity. But with completion of our current construction program, of which this plant is a most essential part, all this will be changed. We will produce most of our electrical requirements within our own system. And we will generate this power at a lower price than we could buy it elsewhere. Stability of electric supply and stability of electric cost will benefit everyone in Central Hudson's franchise territory."

The plant site at Danskammer Point was purchased by Central Hudson in 1940. It covers approximately 60 acres, has 4,465 feet of river frontage, is accessible by highway, railroad and river, and is generally considered one of the best sites for its purpose in the eastern section of the United States.

The site is the western terminus of the first high voltage submarine pipe cable in the United States which the company laid under the river in 1948 as a vital link in its Pleasant Valley-Mar-borough transmission system. Through this cable the plant will be able to supply large quantities of power to customers on the east side of the river as easily as it can supply power to customers on the west side. The cable also permits connection between the Danskammer plant and the main Albany-New York transmission line on the east side of the river.

The plant will be of the most modern design and will be characterized by many unusual engineering features. Plans were drafted only after long preliminary consultations between Central Hudson and Burns & Roe engineers.

The 60,000 kilowatt generator, of the steam turbine-driven type, was chosen for its economical production of electricity. In accordance with modern steam station practice, the unit will consist of a single boiler and single turbine generator combination. It will operate at a steam pressure of 1,650 pounds per square inch, and the steam temperature will be 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. To obtain maximum fuel economy a reheat type turbine will be used. After the steam passes through part of the turbine it will be returned to the boiler and reheated. The steam will then pass into the rest of the turbine and finally into the condenser which will have 46,600 square feet of surface. The turbine is now on order from the General Electric Company, a contract for construction of the boiler has been let to the Combustion Engineering Superheater Company, Inc., of New York, and the contract for the condenser has been let to the Foster Wheeler Corporation of Nyack, N. Y. John Arctorio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie is now grading the site and constructing an access highway.

To simplify construction and promote maximum operating efficiency, the generator will be mounted on the condenser instead of on a separate foundation. This arrangement has never before been used in a generating unit of this large size but engineering studies show that it is entirely practicable and that it will save a considerable sum in construction cost. The mounting has been used on smaller machines with excellent results.

The plant structure will cover an area of 80 by 160 feet. A minimum of 50,000 tons of coal must be kept on hand at all times to insure continuous production of electricity. It is estimated that it will require approximately 35 men for continuous operation of the plant.

Says Formula Needed

Philadelphia, Oct. 5 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank R. Howley believes war with Russia is inevitable unless some new method is found to deal with the Soviet Union. "I wouldn't say it was completely inevitable, because I don't think anything is completely inevitable," the former military commander in Berlin told the Poor Richard Club yesterday. The general, making his remarks in reply to a question from the audience, called Russia "a gangster nation comparable to Murder, Inc., and A. Capone." "Russia has the atomic bomb now and she will not hesitate to use force," he added. He declared the most important question facing this country now is how far does the U. S. wish to go on spending money for armaments.

PAYING PARTY CALLS

A puzzled wife writes: "You often mention paying a party call. When is this done? I have often gone to large parties with my husband where I have felt that I was invited because of him. I would feel self-conscious about being thought a social climber to make a personal call on the hostess. What else could be done in appreciation without seeming forward?"

You do not go and see the hostess. You merely go and leave cards at the door, a custom that was a requirement of yesterday, and though still proper, not an exactation of today. In other words, in your particular situation, it is not necessary for you to do anything.

Ask When Not Sure

Dear Mrs. Post: My aunt is put out with them because I have never brought my fiancé to her house to see her. I felt that it was up to her to invite us together as I was made very aware at the time I announced my engagement that she did not approve of him. Please tell me what you think of this.

Answer: If she told you she disapproved of him, you were quite right in not taking him to see her. If it was just rumor, I think you should have asked her whether or not she would like you to bring him to see her.

When Mr. Should Not Be Included
Dear Mr. Post: Should a wedding invitation be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. When it is a well known fact that Mr. is in a mental institution?

Answer: If you know them at all well, you wouldn't include him but if they are merely acquaintances, it is better to assume ignorance.

Knives that Match Your Set
Dear Mrs. Post: I want to be sure of choosing the right silver, the kind we won't grow tired of. Do you advise the regular knives or are the short-bladed knives equally correct?

Answer: If there are knives to match your silver you should choose these. I would say the conventional knives.
Do you know how to set a table properly? Should the dessert fork and spoon be placed on the table with the first course? Full details are given in Mrs. Post's booklet No. 504, "Table Setting."

To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Vandenberg Condition
Reported Satisfactory

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 5 (AP)—The condition of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who underwent a lung operation Monday, was described as satisfactory at University Hospital last night.

The hospital is expected to issue another bulletin today. Dr. John Alexander, chest specialist, said last night:

"One day after his operation, Senator Vandenberg continued to be in satisfactory condition."

The Republican foreign affairs leader was on the operating table more than six hours. Surgeons removed half of his left lung. They did not say what the operation disclosed. But in Washington yesterday, Vandenberg's aides said they had been assured his ailment was not malignant.

Man, 84, Is Killed

New Bedford, Mass., Oct. 5 (AP)—An 84-year-old man was shot to death by police in the attic of his home last night after neighbors reported he had fired several ineffective shots at passersby. Police identified the man as Charles V. Wilcox. He lived alone. He was shot in the neck and chest. Police reported that when they answered frantic calls of neighbors they were met with a burst of shots at the Wilcox home which was in darkness. Before retreating to the attic the apparently berserk man turned on several gas jets in the house. Police said Wilcox fired several shots as they followed him into the attic. Two bullets felled him.

Legion Auxiliary Wins Membership Citation
Woodstock, Oct. 5.—At the regular monthly meeting of Woodstock Unit 1026, American Legion Auxiliary, last Wednesday, it was announced that the Unit had won a state and national citation for increased membership during 1948-49. This information was imparted to those present by Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck, secretary and former county chairman, who also gave an informative report on her attendance at the State Department convention held in Buffalo.

From reports of the various committees, it was learned that $25 had been given during the month in aiding the children of two veterans; four hours work at the baby clinic was reported by one of the members and it was announced that all money derived from coupons this year would be placed in a special fund to purchase blood for needy persons. The members voted a donation of $5 for the polio Emergency fund.

The members were reminded that the annual gift shop for Castle Point would be held again this year and that November 23 is the deadline for taking the gifts to the hospital. The rehabilitation chairman also stated that the value of the gifts for the veterans this year will be between one and two dollars instead of the 50 cents and up of previous years.

Laborers Quit At New Paltz in Dispute on Forms

Laborers on the New Paltz State Teachers College dormitory job went on a "holiday" Tuesday afternoon in a jurisdictional dispute which apparently is lodged between the laborers local and the carpenters local.

According to labor leaders the question of whether the laborers or the carpenters should have jurisdiction on erecting and stripping of concrete forms on the job arose about September 20 or 21. It was the contention of the carpenters that this work belonged to their men, and a protest was made over the work being done by members of the laborers local.

The matter was submitted to the jurisdictional authorities at Washington on September 28 and following that a telegram was received from John Dunlop of the Jurisdictional Board on Jurisdictional Awards, directing that the work be done by the craft "which has been in the habit of doing this work in the local area" and as a result the work was turned over to the carpenters on the theory in this area this work was under the jurisdiction of the carpenters.

Anderson, Fischer Associates, Inc., are the general contractors on the college job with Avallone Construction Company as subcontractors on the concrete work. Tuesday afternoon the laborers were called out on a "holiday" and as a result the contractors have laid off today the carpenters on the grounds there is no work for them since the laborers are off the job.

Scout Collections for 1949 Are $7,900 Final Report Indicates

The 1949 operating fund campaign of the Kingston District, Western-Green Council Boy Scouts of America has formally closed according to an announcement today by John J. Schwenk, campaign chairman. With scattered reports still to come in members of the campaign organization turned in collections totaling over $7,900.

A large portion of this sum was reported by the Advance Girls Cooperative, headed by A. J. Harris. When collections will exceed the $7,900 mark when completed in the next few days. The council budget for the fiscal year began October 1 is $22,511. Other campaigns are in progress all over the two counties. Schwenk stated, "The reports are encouraging from all communities."

General solicitation to all wards of the City of Kingston and in the immediately adjoining communities has exceeded last year's total by several hundred dollars. The response to the operating fund appeal on the part of the public has been enthusiastic. Chairman Schwenk continued, "Showing that the citizens of this area believe in the Scouting movement and are willing to support such worthy causes."

Is Awarded Title

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—New York's "Handicapped Man of the Year" is Daniel Lionel, classified advertising manager of the Brooklyn Eagle. He was awarded the title today by the New York city sponsoring committee for the National Employ-the-Physically Handicapped Week. Lionel's legs were paralyzed by an early attack of infantile paralysis and he walks with crutches. In addition to his newspaper job, he teaches Journalism at Brooklyn College. He organized the Bent Pin Fishing Club in which 5,000 Brooklyn youngsters are enrolled. Largely through his efforts, Prospect Park Lake was stocked with fish and opened to children for fishing.

Milk and Pie Delight the Men

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Men are milk drinkers. They are also pie-eaters. Ask any restaurant owner who caters to men. He'll tell you "give 'em milk and give 'em pie, then their love will never die."

Milk, an indispensable dairy food, is our best-known source of calcium. Rich too in first class protein, it's a vigorous aid to human growth and development as well as to maintenance of optimum health.

These husky men and boys in your family need it as much as the toddlers. Recently The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council upped the recommended daily milk allowance for adults. It was two cups (16 ounces—1 pint) a day. Now it's three cups—24 ounces—1½ pints.

Custard and apple are the "pin-up" pies, according to masculine preference. If men had their way, they'd probably be on every menu.

Custard Pie

Pastry for a 10-inch pie—for speed and convenience, use packaged pie crust, following directions on the package. One package makes enough pastry for a deep 10-inch pie—4 well-beaten eggs, ½ cup sugar, 3 cups scalded milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg.

Line pie plate with pastry, fluting the edges. Bake 5 to 8 minutes in hot oven (450 degrees F.) to set the crust and prevent filling soaking in. Beat eggs with sugar, add hot milk a little at a time, and stir in the salt. Pour into the partly cooked pie shell, sprinkle nutmeg over the top, and bake in a very moderate oven (325 degrees F. to 350 degrees F.) until the filling is firm, or for about 45 minutes. Custard mixtures to be cooked at a moderate temperature to make them smooth and creamy. If cooked too fast, they curdle or separate.

Baked Indian Pudding with Ice Cream

(Serves 6)

Four cups scalded milk, 1/3 cup cornmeal, 1 tablespoon butter ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 2 well-beaten eggs, ½ cup cold milk. Sprinkle cornmeal into hot milk, stirring constantly and cook for 5 minutes. Add butter. Mix salt, molasses, spices and eggs. Stir in the hot cornmeal mixture, a little at a time. Pour into a 1½-quart baking dish, pour cold milk over the top and bake in a slow oven (250 degrees F.) for about 1½ to 2 hours, or until firm and delicately browned. Serve warm with vanilla ice cream.

Tomorrow's Menu

(With a nod toward the men in the family.)

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, whole milk or light cream, giddle cakes, butter, crisp bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, cream dried beef on toast, canned peas, whole wheat bread, fruit bowl (pears, apples, grapes), cheese, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled steak with onions, mashed potatoes, creamed cabbage, cutfried bread, sliced beefsteak, tomatoes, custard pie, coffee, milk.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE? — An estimated 500,000 Army and Air Force veterans, already awarded the green and white commendation ribbon for meritorious achievement or service, are now eligible to wear the newly-issued pendant medal. The bronze hexagon, with an American bald eagle on the obverse, and words "for military merit" on the reverse, may be obtained by applying to the proper branch of the armed services in Washington.

G.I. Insurance Is To Bring Checks

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Veterans Administration may start paying the $2,800,000,000 G.I. insurance dividend before Christmas—at the rate of a million checks a week.

As soon as the bulk of those payments is out of the way the agency will get to work on a second special dividend, the size of which has not yet been determined.

Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray Jr. has ordered completion of the first dividend payment, to some 18,000,000 World War 2 veterans, by next June 30 if possible. The VA insurance section had expected to start the payments in January, on a 200,000-checks-a-day basis.

About 12,000,000 veterans have applied for the dividend since application blanks became available Aug. 29.

The maximum dividend is $528. It is available to veterans aged 40 or less when they took out their policies, and who kept $10,000 policies in force for 96 months up to the 1948 anniversary date.

Unofficial estimates are that the second special dividend will be paid in 1951 or 1952. Since it will cover a span of only three or four years, the amount to be divided up may be considerably less than the $2,800,000 first dividend which piled up over an eight-year period.

Annulment Granted

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Nancy Oakes has won her two-year fight to end her marriage to Count Alfred de Marigny, the man she stood by during his trial and acquittal on charges of murdering her father. The pretty, 25-year-old heiress was granted an annulment yesterday by State Supreme Court Justice Aron Steiner. He upheld her claim that the 41-year-old de Marigny's Florida divorce from his first wife, Mrs. Lucie Cahen de Marigny, in 1937 was obtained on false testimony.

Sexton Went for Coins And Lovelorn Women

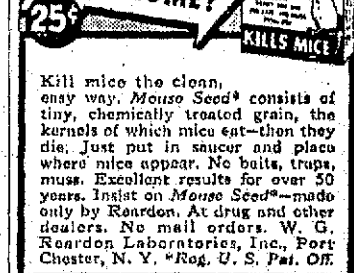

Los Angeles, Oct. 5 (AP)—A church sexton who police said financed a Hollywood bar tour with coins from the collection box was jailed today.

Booked on suspicion of burglarizing church collection boxes is William Lee De Forest, 54, former sexton at St. Thomas the Apostle Church, San Francisco.

He told Detective Sgt. Conwell Keeler:

"Two things I could never resist are silver coins and lovelorn women. And they've both caused me grief."

Keeler said police arrested him after noting he made all bar purchases in small coins. In his room, the police found 1091 dimes, 676 quarters and 660 half dollars plus $380 in folding money.

Alderman Gives Tribute to Turck

The following tribute was paid to Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turck, by Twelfth Ward Alderman James E. Martin at last night's Common Council session and was occasioned by Turck's recent announcement that he has accepted a position in Peekskill.

It became part of the records of the meeting, through a rising vote of the councilmen, and the alderman-at-large replied briefly that he had enjoyed working with the aldermen, and "got to know all a lot better" as time passed. He said he would find it "not easy" to leave the city.

The alderman's tribute in full said: "I feel that I cannot permit tonight's meeting of the council to close without expressing—as an individual, as the unofficial spokesman of my colleagues, and on behalf of the citizens of the City of Kingston—our collective regret occasioned by a news item this past week announcing the resignation of Jimmy Turck from his position with a local financial institution and perhaps the eventual severance of the ties that bind him to the city. Jimmy has served this council with quiet distinction as its presiding officer for almost two years. A spirited man with the ability to keenly analyze every situation that has come before this body, he has deliberately foregone the temptation to express a personal opinion or prejudice—because he knew that the ideal presiding officer does not have the privilege of expression but must on the other hand, merely strive to maintain an orderly expression of opinion by the members of the body without establishing a trend for or against the matter at hand. It takes a disciplined mind and a tactful temperament to preserve such an impartiality. While Jimmy came to this job fully skilled to cope with the complications that must inevitably arise, he exhibited a fine and generous spirit in that he was not too proud to seek the counsel of anyone who might have a stake in the question at hand. For this he should receive the accolade due the fair-minded and fair-spirited public servant who places the most good to the greatest number of our citizens above his own personal interests and attitudes.

You leave us, Jimmy, with our sincere best wishes for your future and with the assurance that your absence will create a void hard to fill.

Washington, Oct. 5 (AP)—The House heard today that newspaper editors and publishers almost never want to quit working.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.) was explaining the social security expansion bill when Rep. Mack (R-Wash.), a publisher, asked why newspaper operators were not among the new groups brought under old age insurance.

Cooper said the Ways and Means Committee received no evidence that publishers and editors wanted to be brought under the program.

Rep. Eberhardt (D-Pa.) interposed to tell the House that it was brought out in committee hearings that publishers and editors seldom retire at 65 years—the age of eligibility for old age benefits.

Leading Dairy Representatives Discuss Herd Improvements

Means of improving dairy herds in southeastern New York were discussed at a meeting in Kingston Monday of about 50 dairy herd improvement supervisors, breeding technicians, agricultural agents, dairy farmers and extension specialists.

Representatives were present from Sullivan, Orange, Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Ulster counties.

Professor Raymond Albertsen, animal husbandry specialist from Cornell University, headed the cooperative efforts of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association and the Artificial Breeding Association, saying that neither organization could work successfully without the other.

Prof. Albertsen stated that as of August this year more than 700 herds in the state had D.H.I.A. records of artificially sired animals. The average of D.H.I.A. herds in the state is a little less than 350 pounds of butter fat compared to an average of 230 pounds for the average of all cows in the state, he said. Professor Stanley Brownell, also of Cornell, added that no two other organizations in the state could improve the lot of the individual dairyman better than these two.

Persons attending from Ulster county were Benjamin Scholten, Kingston; Carl Dommeis, New Paltz; Phil Parodi, St. Remy; Melvin Richards, New Paltz; Kenneth Courter, Central Valley; R. V. O. DuBois, Gardiner. The Ulster County Farm Bureau was host for the conference.

Quickly Does It

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—John Quickly, 35, appeared yesterday before Magistrate Eugene J. Canudo to answer a charge of driving too quickly. ## Dewey Turns His Tour to Southern Portion of State

En Route With Dewey, Oct. 5 (AP)—Governor Dewey swung into southern New York today to stump some more for John Foster Dulles with a running attack on the Truman administration.

Dewey's latest thrust at Washington during his tour for the Republican Senate nominee was a reference to what he termed "pretty casual" releasing of atomic information by the federal government.

Dewey planned to stop first today at the farm near Homer in Cortland county of Republican Assemblyman Harold L. Creel, chairman of a newly organized "rural citizens committee" to get out the farm vote for Dulles November 8.

Dewey's schedule for the rest of the day called for appearances at Port Dickinson, Binghamton and Kodak.

At Auburn last night, Dewey was greeted by the most enthusiastic crowd of the tour, which began Monday.

He told a gathering of more than 600 at a rally: "We hear the Russians have an atomic bomb. This shouldn't be surprising in view of the many German scientists they have kidnapped, even if our own government had not been pretty casual in its release of information."

He keyed his plea for election of Dulles over Democratic-Liberal Party nominee Herbert H. Lehman on Dulles' experience in international affairs.

In view of the international situation, Dewey declared, "It behooves us to start turning away from glamorous promises to those who will bring experience, which is needed now more than ever before."

The governor hammered also on his theme that the Communists seek to defeat Dulles because of his influence of U. S. foreign policy.

Farm Committee Forms

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—A New York state farm committee has been formed to push the U. S. Senate candidacy of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in traditionally Republican upstate agricultural areas. Democratic State Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick said yesterday a spirited campaign will be waged upstate, with a comparison of farm income under Democratic and Republican administrations as the keynote. The new farm committee is headed by Assemblyman James G. Lyons, of Monticello, ranking Democratic minority member of the Assembly Agriculture Committee and a Sullivan county dairyman.

Evans Stops Coleman; Prelim Steals Show on Wrestling Card

Bertucci-Kameroff Bout Pleases Crowd

Don "The Magnificent" Evans, the Flatbush giant of the wrestling world, polished off the veteran Abe Coleman of Forest Hills, L. I., at the 15-minute mark in Tuesday night's feature mat card bill at the municipal auditorium but took it from the fans the real crowd pleaser was Lew Bertucci's 17.5 victory over Joe "Mad Russian" Kameroff, one of the two preliminaries.

It all summed up as the No. 1 bout on Promoter Bill Johnston's weekly card with both Kameroff and Bertucci going the full 15 minutes. The fight was put together in a Hollywood script. Bertucci finally put an end to it with a body lock.

Evans, on the strength of last night's debut victory, will be pitted against Ivan Kameroff in next Tuesday's feature attraction. Also on the card will be Baron Michele Leone and Steve Karns. Harry Finkelstein, the Boston "Bad Man," will meet Ace Freeman.

Both Hit Canvas

Evans, who resembled something like a knight out of the wild and woolly ancient sea days with his curled locks trailing down the back of his head, seemed to be the underdog as far as the local fans were concerned despite the home town crowd.

Featuring a repertoire of headlocks, leg scissors, body scissors and inevitable body slams, Evans went to work on the veteran mat man from Forest Hills at the start. One of the highlights occurred when both men, bounding off the side ropes, slammed head-on into each other. Both went down like a ton of bricks while Referee Johnny Palermo started to count.

Evans continued to assault squatty Abe with a playful series of jumps while the latter was prone on the canvas. Coleman finally got going in the brief seconds before the match ended but it was too late and too little.

Evans finally put on the clincher with his rugged head lock which pinned Coleman to the canvas.

Evans tipped the scales at 227 while Coleman weighed 218. The crowd actually "ate up" the unvarnished 30-minute bout between Lew Bertucci, 202, Rome, and Joe "Mad Russian" Kameroff, 247, of Russia.

Kameroff, who could perhaps be dubbed the "Tape Man" had the upper hand in a playful beginning. Appearing with a bandaged hand, Kameroff went on to use the bandage to best use by rubbing it into Bertucci's face. That is, when the referee wasn't looking, of course. This went on until Palermo finally caught on, Kameroff, believing that he wasn't using the tape as had

Low Turns Tables

Kameroff, hulking around the ring and still dipping into his trunk for the bandage, looked supreme until the Rome representative retrieved it and turned tables on the Russian. This was all Big Joe could stand. He rabidly ran claiming Bertucci was using the illegal tape.

Kameroff only put on the show worth every cent the patrons put on the line to see the bout. He kidded with the fans in his own pretty manner and even helped Referee Palermo with the counts.

In the semi-final Steve Karns, 198, Detroit, defeated Tony Coszena, 200, of Clushung, with an inside, outside reverse hold. It was a dull bout with Karns featuring a continuous body scissors on the Long Islander for the major part of the struggle. Coszena looked to be pretty much on the way out early in the bout when Karns put the scissors on Coszena's "bread basket" as the latter puffed, backed for breathing.

The curtain-raiser was a draw between Ace Freeman, 220, New York, and Hans Kanfer, 232, of St. Louis, Mo.

Officials at the matches were Judges Barney Williams of Newburgh and Tony Moscatello of Troy; Referee Johnny Palermo of Nyack and Fred Elster, trucker, Kingston. Dick McCarthy was the announcer.

Melon-Testing Veteran

Des Moines, Ia., (AP)—If any man could tell a good melon by thumping and looking at it that man should be Hal Wolford. For 55 years, Wolford has been in the melon business at Conville which claims the title of "Melon Capital of the Middle West." Wolford can recall back at the turn of the century when as many as 800 railroad cars of melons were shipped from the town. They sold them for $50 a carload. The season this year was near perfect. More than 150 acres of watermelons were grown along with 80 acres of cantaloupes in the sandy flat between the Iowa and Cedar rivers. Most of the melons now are shipped by truck. They have been sent this year as far as Kentucky and Georgia.

World Series Briefs

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Don Newcombe, who may be Brooklyn's opening day choice in the World Series which gets under way at the Yankee Stadium today, is ready to pitch in three games, if necessary.

"I'm ready to pitch every day, if Burt (Shotton, Dodger manager) wants me to," the big 235-pound Negro right-hander said. "I feel strong and I've never had a sore arm in my life. Working with a two-day rest has never bothered me before."

Jackie Robinson, who accused Umpire Bill Stewart of "choking up" recently in a game between Brooklyn and St. Louis, admits that he choked up during the Dodgers' 9-7 last day triumph over Philadelphia.

"My heart was right up here," admitted the brilliant second baseman, pointing to his throat. "When the Phils tied the score and put their leadoff man on base in the last half of the ninth, I thought we were licked. I wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for our chances then. I was so nervous, I hardly realized who was at bat. I'm glad he didn't hit the ball to me."

Fee Wee Reese, Dodger captain, is the only member of the 1941 pennant winners still with the club. In all three World Series the Yankees were his opponents.

"Don't anybody but the Yankees win the pennant in the American League?" Reese waived. The Yankees whipped the Brooks in 1941 and 1947.

Yogi Berra, the Yankees' popular catcher, disclosed that his ailing thumb is far from healed.

"I still can't grip a bat real good," he moaned. "It will take all winter for it to get back in good shape again."

Brazil Has Dream Murder

Santos, Brazil (AP)—An 18-year-old boy killed his father, he surrendered to police and told them his mother appeared in a dream and ordered him to kill him. She poisoned herself a few weeks ago when the father left her and set up housekeeping with a 24-year-old girl.

Sicklers Defeat Potters by 51-40

Sicklers Delivery and Orchard Motors turned in victories in the Fall Basketball League at the Y court Tuesday night.

Sicklers upended Potter Brothers by 51 to 40 while the Orchard Motors trimmed Schulers Inn by the count of 58 to 35.

George Bloom and Bud Smith, each rolling up 20 points, paced Sicklers while Engle and McCarroll, with 13 and 10 respectively, were high for the losers.

Frank Ebelheiser's 16 points topped the Orchard with Goerke trailing with 15. Dunham found the range for 11 markers. Billy's 12 counters topped Schulers.

The scores: Sicklers Delivery (51)—T. Alhary, f, 1-1-3; T. Mainer, f, 1-0-2; Bloom, f, 9-2-20; B. Smith, c, 10-0-20; McGrane g, 1-0-2; Murphy, g, 1-2-4; P. Smith, g, 0-0-0.

Potters (40)—Green, f, 1-3-5; Schoonmaker, f, 4-0-8; Priest, c, 2-0-4; Engel, g, 6-1-13; Suss, g, 0-0-0; McCarroll, g, 4-2-10; Holmgren, g, 0-0-0.

Schulers Inn (35)—Curier, f, 3-0-6; Gruenewald, f, 4-0-8; Billy, c, 5-2-12; McCarroll, g, 3-1-7; Sickler, g, 1-0-2; Melnick, g, 0-0-0.

Roe May Be Hill Starter In 1949 Series Opener

New York, Oct. 5 (AP)—Preacher Roe, the angular Arkansas traveler, looks like the Brooklyn starter against Alie Reynolds of the Reynolds-Page Corporation today in the Dodger-Yankee World Series opener at Yankee Stadium.

Switch to the left-handed Roe from Don Newcombe, the 235-pound Negro rookie, was indicated from Dodger sources although Manager Burt Shotton still held off definite word. It won't be definite until warm-up time before the game, due to start at 1 p. m., (E.S.T.).

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel confirmed his choice of "Old Wahoo" Reynolds. The Oklahoma Indian who opened so many key series in the club's gallant drive to the American League pennant. Down the stretch, every series was vital but Alie, with Fireman Joe Page as his shadow, drew the "big" assignments.

Showers Predicted

Next to the debate about the Brook starter, the weather was the most-talked-about subject. The forecast called for a "few showers." Despite the threat, there was a line at the bleacher gate early yesterday afternoon.

This 46th World Series will be watched by the largest number of fans in history because all games will be piped on the television cable to points as far West as St. Louis. All networks, including 61 stations will carry the TV and some 740 radio stations will air the reports of Red Barber and Mel Allen over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

The Dodgers' 17 to 10 underdogs in man-to-man betting in this best-of-seven competition, will be handicapped by a groin injury to Carl Furillo, their 322-bitting right fielder. Furillo said yesterday at the final workout he couldn't hit or run. Still Shotton calmly announced Furillo as his starting right fielder with no alternate.

Furillo and Cliff Mages, Yankee alternate right fielder, have the strongest throwing arms of the series outfielders.

Knowing that righthanded Reynolds will start, Shotton has lined up a crew of three left-handed batters. Spider Jorgensen will be at third, Duke Snider in center and Gene Hermanski in left field.

When a southpaw works, Shotton uses Eddie Miksis on third and Luis Olmo in left.

The batting averages give the edge to the Dodgers, .270 to .267. They also have the home run edge.

as well as the speed for stolen bases.

Although Branch Rickey's farthing farm system is loaded with talent, the Yanks probably have more big league reserves on the bench than Brooklyn. There is nobody on the Dodger club to match George Stiggers, Bobby Brown, Charley Keller, Charley Silvers or Johnny Mize if pinch hitting help is needed.

And, oh yes, Brooklyn never has won a World Series. The Yanks have copied 11 of 15.

There are approximately 200,000 known kinds of tree-attacking insects.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT CLEANS ITSELF!

Outside surfaces stay fresh and clean-looking when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't get a grip—rains just wash them away!
SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.
SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!
